Course information

Course prerequisites

Microeconomics III (Bachelor)

Course content

Game Theory is the lingua franca of modern behavioral and social sciences. In particular, game theory is an indispensable tool for the economic analysis of strategic interaction. This course refreshes and builds on material that students have learned in their bachelor studies. The goal of this course is to enable students to independently describe and analyze settings with strategic interaction using the tools of modern game theory. We will meet every week in class. In each class, we discuss the key concepts, solve exercises, or conduct classroom experiments to immerse ourselves in the material.

In this course, students

1. learn how to describe strategic interaction,
2. familiarize themselves with the most important solution concepts,
3. gain practice in solving game-theoretic problems,
4. learn how to think strategically within and beyond the classroom.

Students will have to submit two problem sets that are graded. There is a final written exam.

Examination-aid rule

Term papers

- Term papers must be written without anyone else's help and in accordance with the known quotation standards, and they must contain a declaration of authorship.
- The documentation of sources (quotations, bibliography) has to be done throughout and consistently in accordance with the APA or MLA standards. The indications of the sources of information taken over verbatim or in paraphrase (quotations) must be integrated into the text in accordance with the precepts of the applicable quotation standard, while informative and bibliographical notes must be added as footnotes (recommendations and standards can be found, for example, in METZGER, C. (2017), Lern- und Arbeitsstrategien (12th ed., Cornelsen Schweiz).
- For any work written at the HSG, the indication of the page numbers both according to the MLA and the APA standard is never optional.
- Where there are no page numbers in sources, precise references must be provided in a different way: titles of chapters or sections, section numbers, acts, scenes, verses, etc.
- For papers in law, the legal standard is recommended (by way of example, cf. FORSTMOSER, P., OGOREK R. et SCHINDLER B. (2018), Juristisches Arbeiten: Eine Anleitung für Studierende (6. Auflage), Zürich: Schulthess, or the recommendations of the Law School).
