Course information

Course prerequisites
Students should be familiar with the material taught in Data Analytics I& II.

Learning objectives
- Students know and use modern data analytics & econometrics tools for decision-focused causal & predictive empirical studies.
- Students apply suitable advanced data analytics causal estimators.
- Students apply suitable advanced data analytics predictive estimators and code such estimators in Python. While such issues have already been discussed in Data Analytics II, here we substantially extend the relevant set of empirical methods.

Course content
Nonlinear models with specific structure: Discrete Choice, Count, Duration (parametric & machine/statistical learning estimation).
Semiparametric methods for estimation of causal effects under unconfoundedness (semiparametric & machine learning estimation).
Additional machine learning methods for prediction.

Course structure
The course consists of 7 lectures, 5 Lab sessions (contact studies), and a self-studies part. In the contact studies part relevant methods are discussed and applied to particular empirical problems. In the self-studies part, estimators are coded in Python.

Course literature
Wooldridge: The Econometrics of Cross-sectional and Panel Data.
Cameron & Trivedi: Microeconometrics.
Efron & Hastie: Computer Age Statistical Inference.
Hastie, Tibshirani, Friedman: The Elements of Statistical Learning.

Examination-aid rule
Term papers
Term papers must be written without anyone else's help and in accordance with the known quotation standards, and they must contain a declaration of authorship which is a published template in StudentWeb.

The documentation of sources (quotations, bibliography) has to be done throughout and consistently in accordance with the chosen citation standard such as APA or MLA.

For papers in law, the legal standard is recommended (by way of example, cf. FORSTMOSE, P., OGOREK R. et SCHINDLER B., Juristisches Arbeiten: Eine Anleitung für Studierende, newest edition respectively, or according to the recommendations of the Law School).

The indications of the sources of information taken over verbatim or in paraphrase (quotations) must be integrated into texts in accordance with the precepts of the applicable quotation standard, while informative and bibliographical notes must be added as footnotes (recommendations and standards can be found, for example, in METZGER, C., Lern- und Arbeitsstrategien, newest edition respectively.

For any work written at the HSG, the indication of the page numbers is mandatory independent of the chosen citation standard. Where there are no page numbers in sources, precise references must be provided in a different way: titles of chapters or sections, section numbers, acts, scenes, verses, etc.
