Course information

Course prerequisites

There are no prerequisites for this course except genuine interest in foreign policy

Learning objectives

- Deeper understanding of the functioning of foreign policy
- Appreciation of International Law and the rules based international order
- Deeper understanding of individual conflicts
- Ability to develop options for foreign policy actions

Course content

After the horrors of the Second World War the International Community was determined to prevent similar conflicts in the future. The UN were founded. The understanding was that future conflicts should be resolved peacefully, based on the strength of the rule of law and not through the rule of force exercised by the strongest. Currently, we are experiencing a crisis of the Rules Based International Order. Many international players simply ignore International Law. We observe this in Ukraine, in the Sahel region, the Middle East and in other places. The course will look at the basis of the Rules Based International Order and individual crises where the Rules Based International Order is under attack.

Course structure and indications of the learning and teaching design

The Block Seminar will contain 6 main sessions:

1. Overview of the Rules Based International Order: UN Charter and Security Council Resolutions, Universal Declaration of Human Rights, International Courts, other components of International Law
2. Ukraine
3. The Conflict between Kosovo and Serbia
4. The Middle East Conflict
5. Haiti: the way forward
6. Taiwan: what is next?

7. Sahel: the way forward

Each session will be introduced by Christoph Heusgen. He will then invite an international personality to present her or his view of each topic. A discussion on the conflict will follow. Dependent on the number of students participating in the course adaptations will need to be made (more group work vs. individual work). After the number of students inscribed is known more detailed information on course work and examinations will follow.

Course literature

There is no specific book to be read beforehand. Students should read newspapers, magazines, do some individual research on the conflicts. Everybody should look at the UN Charter.

Additional course information

Christoph Heusgen was foreign policy advisor to German Chancellor Angela Merkel for 12 years (2005-2017) and then Germany's Ambassador to the United Nations for four years. Since February 2022 he is Chairman of the Munich Security Conference. He has extensive practical experience with the course topic.

Term papers

Written work must be written without outside help according to the known citation standards, and a declaration of authorship must be attached, which is available as a template on the StudentWeb.

Documentation (quotations, bibliography, etc.) must be carried out universally and consistently according to the requirements of the chosen/specified citation standard such as e.g. APA or MLA.

The legal standard is recommended for legal work (cf. by way of example: FORSTMOSER, P., OGOREK R., SCHINDLER B., Juristisches Arbeiten: Eine Anleitung für Studierende (the latest edition in each case), or according to the recommendations of the Law School).

The reference sources of information (paraphrases, quotations, etc.) that has been taken over literally or in the sense of the original text must be integrated into the text in accordance with the requirements of the citation standard used. Informative and bibliographical notes must be included as footnotes (recommendations and standards e.g. in METZGER, C., Lern- und Arbeitsstrategien (latest edition)).

For all written work at the University of St.Gallen, the indication of page numbers is mandatory, regardless of the standard chosen. Where page numbers are missing in sources, the precise designation must be made differently: chapter or section title, section number, article, etc.

Examination content

Students are expected to demonstrate a deeper understanding of one of the five conflicts. What are the interests involved of the parties, of outside actors? What are constraining factors? What are possible solutions, ways forward?

Depending on the number of students participating in the course, the term paper will either be an individual paper (<15) or a group paper (>15).

Examination relevant literature

There is no mandatory literature or specific books. The components of international law applicable to the conflicts should be known. Current developments on the conflicts should be followed.

Please note

Please note that only this fact sheet and the examination schedule published at the time of bidding are binding and takes precedence over other information, such as information on StudyNet (Canvas), on lecturers' websites and information in lectures etc.

Any references and links to third-party content within the fact sheet are only of a supplementary, informative nature and lie outside the area of responsibility of the University of St.Gallen.
